

P0221D10A3817 EARLY CHRISTIAN STUDIES (full-time study and part-time study) – Czech language programme

P0221D10A3818 EARLY CHRISTIAN STUDIES (full-time study and part-time study) – English language programme

Branch characteristic:

The applicant is a graduate of a master's or follow-up master's degree program. Has

- 1) knowledge of Christianity within the scope of the prescribed required literature (see the list of required literature);
- 2) is fluent in Greek and / or Latin to the extent that he / she is able to translate and interpret moderately difficult Greek / Latin text;
- 3) masters at least one world language to such an extent that he is able to read and interpret professional texts (ability is verified by knowledge of the prescribed required literature, mostly in foreign languages);
- 4) submits and defends the proposal of the dissertation project prepared according to the prescribed formal structure (definition of the topic, methodological approach and procedure, definition of objectives, bibliography and schedule).

Description of verification and evaluation criteria:

One-round (three parts, neither of which is "knock-out") Conducted in English language.

- 1) Exam in Greek or Latin (at the level of ability to read and translate texts)
The maximum score for this part is 20 points.
- 2) Examination in compulsory literature
The maximum score for this part is 35 points.
- 3) Defense of theses of the submitted doctoral thesis project.
The maximum score for this part is 45 points.

The maximum possible score for three parts of the entrance examination is 100 points.

The minimum possible score for three parts of the entrance examination for full-time study is 80 points.

The minimum possible score for three parts of the entrance examination for part-time study is 75 points.

According to the maximum number of accepted applicants, the dean will decide on the admission of the candidate/candidates who has/have fulfilled the conditions of the admission procedure and has/have received the highest number of points in the admission exam.

Note: The Greek or Latin exam does not have to be taken by a candidate who has passed the Greek or Latin exam at HTF UK or a comparable exam at another workplace (a four-semester course ending with an exam).

Conditions for admission: Admission to Doctoral studies is conditioned by successful completion of a Master's study programme.

Rules governing exemption from entrance examination: The entrance examination cannot be waived.

Preparatory course: The Faculty is not conducting a preparation course.

Mandatory literature: <https://htf.cuni.cz/HTF-771.html>

Information on graduate employment

The graduate has an in-depth understanding of early Christianity and the problems of its study. The graduate works with documents in their original language (Greek and Latin) and handles them critically. The graduate is capable of oral and written expression at such a level that he or she regularly publishes the results of his or her research. A large part of abilities and skills (method of expression, work with religious texts, critical thinking, etc.) is transferable to other areas.